

The Trivium Review Questions

By: Shane Michael Sexton

1. The Trivium consists of three domains: logic, grammar, and rhetoric.
2. The Quadrivium consists of four domains: arithmetic, geometry, astronomy, and music.
3. What is concerned with proper pronunciation?
A. Grammar B. Logic C. Spelling D. Phonetics
4. What concerned with the proper formation of sentences?
A. Grammar B. Logic C. Spelling D. Phonetics
5. Rhetoric is concerned with effectiveness, grammar is concerned with correctness, and logic is concerned with truth.
6. Chemical notation is a special language, whereas French is a common language.
7. A species is a set of all beings sharing the same essence.
8. In the sentence “‘Cat’ has three letters,” cat is being used in which imposition?
A. Zero B. First C. Second
9. In the sentence “‘Cat’ is a noun,” cat is being used in which imposition?
A. Zero B. First C. Second
10. In the sentence “The cat is purring,” cat is being used in which imposition?
A. Zero B. First C. Second
11. First intention refers to a reality and second intention refers to a concept.